

The Storehouses of Heaven

On an engagement with Heaven, I desired to access the Storehouses of Heaven. I seemed to pass through a door, and it was if I drove around a curve on country road and suddenly you are faced with a beautiful vista as far as your eyes could see. I had stepped into a dimension where the sky seemed to go on forever and where one could see blessings such as gold, diamonds, jewels, treasures of all sorts, in piles, but not in small piles, rather in mounds like mountains—but not one mountain. It was an entire range of mountains! It went for miles and miles. The amount of wealth was astonishing! These were blessings and treasures that had never been accessed by the saints on the earth. They weren't in storehouses, they were too vast for that. I reminded me of how King Solomon accumulated so much wealth that he simply had the silver piled in heaps outside.

We are encouraged to access these treasures in Colossians 1:5:

Your faith and love rise within you as you access all the treasures of your inheritance stored up in the heavenly realm. (TPT)

Asking why these treasures had not been obtained I heard Hosea 4:6:

My people are destroyed for a lack of knowledge.

When I first stepped in, I probably looked like a kid in a candy store with eyes as big as saucers. The vastness was hard to believe. It was if I had an invitation to do what a small child would do in a candy store with a bag in hand—fill it with all the goodies his heart desired. Not unlike Aladdin's cave that was filled with treasures.

The scripture in Philippians 4:19 came to mind:

And my God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

God has supplied, but we have failed to access it properly.

The fault was not God's. We simply failed to learn the lessons.

“Why don't people come here to receive their blessings?” I asked.

The reply, “Because they look to the world and not to God.”

Our guide explained that what I was looking at were the blessings not ever actualized into the earth from previous and present generations of saints. The provisions were available, but they had failed to access the provision.

“Can they be obtained now? I asked.

“Yes,” I was told. You simply need to learn how to access them and bring them into your realm.

There is no lack of supply or provision.

There is simply a failure to access the provision.

We have access to this place due to our obedience in repentance and pressing into the Courts of Heaven. Many times, we may be obedient to repent, but we don't press past any opposition to access the Courts of Heaven. In doing so, we forfeit the benefits and blessing that would come out of the engagement with and in the Courts of Heaven. At other times, we press into the Courts, but have not been obedient to repent sufficiently.

The more repentant we are, the more success we will see in the Courts of Heaven, regardless of which Court we seek to engage.

How do we go about accessing these treasures?

- Obey - Obedience is always an obvious and unavoidable key)
- Faith it - (yet most don't understand faith)
- Foresee it (with the eyes of faith)
- Fashion it – Fashion the substance (Now faith is the substance (Heb 11:1))
- Find it in favor - Go to the Court of Favor and obtain it.

The blessings are fashioned into what we need in this place but are actualized from the Court of Favor.

Fashioning by Faith

King Solomon who had joined us, had some things to say:

Riches and honor are with me, enduring riches and righteousness. ¹⁹ My fruit is better than gold, yes, than fine gold, and my revenue than choice silver. ²⁰ I traverse the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of justice, ²¹ that I may cause those who love me to inherit wealth, that I may fill their treasuries. (Proverbs 8:18-21)

God is not against us having stuff, but we have to get it His way. Hebrews 11:1 says,

Now faith brings our hopes into reality and becomes the foundation needed to acquire the things we long for. It is all the evidence required to prove what is still unseen. (TPT)

Solomon had described how to fashion faith into what we need on a prior visitation. He had me imagine I had a ball of Play-Doh, the children's toy that is like clay that you can mold and fashion into all kinds of things. He said to do the prophetic act of fashioning the imaginary Play-Doh (substance) into the thing needed. If it was a certain amount of money, or anything else.

Then, couple this action with the intent that you are producing by faith what is needed.

If money is what you need, fashion the Play-Doh into a check that you could fill in the amount on, then on the back endorse the check. Then fashion a deposit slip, complete it by faith, and by faith deposit it into your bank account.

Remember, prophetic acts create realities.

Now, please don't visit your local bank and put a ball of Play-Doh in the drawer at the drive-through window. That may not be the deposit they prefer. But by faith I can fashion that imaginary Play-Doh into anything I need. As I do, I see my faith forming it into what is needed. We need to understand that "what we can see, we can seize" by faith!

Take a moment and become a kid again. Take the ball of Play-Doh and begin to fashion it into the thing you desire or need. As you do, release the intent of your heart for this to become what you need. You will sense a release within you that faith has sparked something for you.

Several other verses of scripture came to mind:

Haggai 2:7-9

"And I will shake all nations, and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations, and I will fill this temple with glory," says the LORD of hosts. ⁸ 'The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine,' says the LORD of hosts. ⁹ 'The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than the former,' says the LORD of hosts. 'And in this place, I will give peace,' says the LORD of hosts."

2 Corinthians 9:8)

And God is able to make all grace abound toward you, that you, always having all sufficiency in all things, may have an abundance for every good work.

Psalm 1:1-9

¹ What delight comes to those who follow God's ways! They won't walk in step with the wicked, nor share the sinner's way, nor be found sitting in the scorner's seat.

² Their pleasure and passion are remaining true to the Word of "I Am," meditating day and night in his true revelation of light. ³ They will be standing firm like a flourishing tree planted by God's design, deeply rooted by the brooks of bliss, bearing fruit in every season of their lives.

They are never dry, never fainting, ever blessed, ever prosperous. ⁴ But how different are the wicked. All they are is dust in the wind—driven away to destruction!

⁵ The wicked will not endure the day of judgment, for God will not defend them. Nothing they do will succeed or endure for long, for they have no part with those who walk in truth.

⁶ But how different it is for the righteous! The Lord embraces their paths as they move forward while the way of the wicked lead only to doom.

God's Word never returns to Him void, but people are double-minded which can affect the impact of God's Word.

"King David was like that at times," Solomon said.

Court of Favor

I left the dimension containing the storehouses and stepped into the Court of Favor to request the formal release of favor for the things fashioned by our faith earlier. The request was simple. The attending judge reviewed what was presented, looked at me, then back at the paperwork and the objects that had been fashioned, and stamped the paperwork 'Approved!' Thanked the Judge, I exited the Court.

The Purpose of Protocols

Heaven has very specific ways of doing things, none of which are accidental or unnecessary. By having the same pattern, the playing field is level for everyone. Our Defense Attorney, Jesus our Messiah, is available to help us at any time as are the myriad of angels and men and women in white linen within the Courts of Heaven complex.

The seer accompanying me, and I had left the Court of Favor and entered the Revelation area. Within that area, we entered the room concerning the Workings of Heaven. We had received insights pertaining to some of these workings on earlier days in the Court of Decrees complex and were to gain more understanding now.

The Lord had been dealing with me concerning portals and understanding how they work. When it came to the workings of Heaven, it was literally a whirlwind tour—a spinning—massive expressing of God’s power and understanding concerning how Heaven functions. This should not have been a surprise since in Scripture, a whirlwind often was code for a portal.

Much of what we have read in the Bible we have relegated to being mere allegory. That idea needs to be completely rethought. What we might think to be foolish may very well be the actual reality. The information gleaned entered our spirits and was not so immediately available as other parts of our tour had been. It was registered within us and would be revealed as we went forward in our journey.

Heaven is so big we could never see it all. The Courts of Heaven complex is massive as well. Just when we think we understand something, God slides another piece of information into the equation that causes you to totally rethink what you thought you knew. We must look with spiritual eyes, and we must access it. We had been given more insight into Heaven’s workings. The mystery had been removed from many things and we were sure we would again be amazed as we continued our trek.
